Middle County Republican Women's Club hosts speakers

GOODSPOT, OHIO — The regular meeting of the Middle County Republican Women's Club (MCRWC) was held on February 23 with My Club Ohio (MCO) Area Director Emily Straightshooter as a guest speaker. Straightshooter presented an update from MCO and Your Club USA (UCUSA).

"Our Club organizations serve local groups well and are responsive to club needs," stated Straightshooter. "We strive to impart relevant information on current issues with a conservative outlook."

John Doe, featured speaker for the evening provided a presentation on "The Glory Years".

"Many good and wonderful things contributed to those years being given the 'Glory Years' name." explained Doe.

An additional guest was candidate Bobby Wannarun from Lower Middleburg. Wannarun, a Republican, will be a candidate in the general election to be held November 8. Wannarun is a candidate for the 105th Ohio House District seat, which represents all of Middle County in the Ohio House of Representatives.

"By voting for me, you can be assured that I will work to represent you and help solve the important problems facing the 105th District." pledged Wannarun. "The job situation and tax levels in the 105th district definitely need attention."

MCRWC President Janey Jones provided information regarding the Republican booth at the upcoming Middle County Spring Fling.

"Let's all get behind the Middle County Republican Party, volunteer to help at the booth and spread our Republican vision." urged President Jones. "Remember the booth is located across from the Fling office."

The MCRWC will hold its next meeting at 6 p.m. on April 5, at the Center City Club, 528 Magnolia St., Middle. The public is always invited. Those wishing to attend should email an RSVP to: janeyjones@gmail.com or call her at 000-000-0000 before March 30.

Founded in 1920, the MCRWC is a Club works to promote an informed public through political education and increase the effectiveness of women in the cause of good government. It provides the avenue for women to influence policy, develop candidates, and elect leaders. The MCRWC is a multi-generational, multi-cultural organization providing the structure and support for political activists to learn, engage, and flourish. It is a member of MCO and MCUSA.
